This incredible semi-detached house in Manilva Pueblo (Málaga), set in a privileged location, stands out for its stunning panoramic views and offers the perfect balance between tranquility, natural surroundings, and proximity to all amenities.

The property has 148 m² built, distributed across three spacious and bright bedrooms, one full bathroom, and an additional guest toilet. On the ground floor, there is a cozy living room integrated with a fully equipped kitchen, creating an open-plan space that provides great brightness, a sense of space, and pleasant views. On the same level, there is a large patio, ideal for installing a pool, relaxing, or enjoying outdoor moments.

Additionally, the property includes a space currently used as an office, with enough size to be converted into an independent apartment, adding great potential to the home.

On the rooftop, the property offers a fantastic solarium terrace equipped with a practical outdoor kitchenette, perfect for gatherings, outdoor dining, or relaxing while enjoying the views.
